The September meeting was well attended and we had a couple of diverse, but very interesting videos.

From a Caribana parade film by Dan Copeland using his custom built crane to a St. Petersburg film by Harold Cosgrove we ventured into the past with a moving memorial by Ken Davy about his fathers war experience and regiment. This was a well done and very moving video on his father and his fellow soldiers.

We also took the opportunity to brush up on basics by viewing a portion of Camera Command, an instructional video series on the basics of video camera function, use and the science behind it.

October is visitors night and I hope that Jon Soyka has in his possession a few videos from the members for the meeting to showcase the members works.

Memberships can be paid at this meeting so those who have not paid up see Jon or the person taking the forms for this meeting.

There has been some debate on the length of videos for each monthly contest and Jim Small will decide on the time limit if any on future contests. Ten minutes was a compromise length to get in as many as we can in a night, but he may make them shorter or longer at his discretion.

Look at the upcoming contests and get your mind and camera working.

I'll see you there.
